CEILINGS OFF MEAT DRIVE GETS SUPPORT

OPA Critics Counting On Campaign To Crack Open Compromise

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, July 6 — OPA's senatorial critics counted today on a powerful off-with-meats-ceilings drive to crack open the compromise bill to revive price and rent controls.

Spearheaded by Republican Senators Taft of Ohio and Wherry of Nebraska, this fresh attempt to tie down OPA, even if it wins new life, gained the influential support of Democratic Senator George of Georgia.

George told reporters he favored leaving meat off of the lists because he thought most of it would go back into the black market the minute controls were restored.

Recessed Until Monday

With the senate in recess until Monday when it will take up the disputed revival bill Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) forced out of the banking committee, OPA opponents maneuvered to force the first test vote on the meat issue.

Taft said he felt confident enough Democrats would go along with Republicans to write the meat exemption into the bill despite contention by administration leaders such a move might precipitate another presidential veto.

Wherry told reporters it is his judgement that if the senate refuses to kill meat controls, it won't accept any other amendment to the bill on which Barkley is standing firm despite criticism of some of its terms by OPA Administrator Paul Porter.

Barkley and Chairman Wagner (D-N.Y.) of the banking committee expressed hope that the senate will stick by the committee-approved measure. But they at least had doubts about their ability to beat off the meat amendment, offered in different forms by Wherry and Senator McCarran (D-Nev.).

Strategy Worked Before

Wagner and Barkley apparently were laying plans to get rid of it in a senate-house conference committee. That strategy worked before, but the resulting bill was so distasteful to President Truman that he vetoed it.

The drive against meat controls took precedence over an effort by Taft to restore a modified version of his manufacturers' profits amendment which Mr. Truman made the major basis for his veto.

Taft offered this identical amendment again with a change in the date. He proposed that individual manufacturers be granted price increases on major items to cover cost rises since the period of July 1 to 15, 1940. Originally he had proposed Oct. 1 to 15, 1941, and Mr. Truman complained this was a period of unusually high earnings for industry.

The Ohio senator's new version represented a backing away from his earlier compromise position when he agreed to accept a formula under which price increases would be featured on the industry-wide, rather than item by item—average, plus the industry-wide rise in costs. Barkley put such a formula into the committee substitute for the Taft proposal, but Taft said additional exemption provisions were such that the price administrator wouldn't have to grant any increases if he chose to refuse them.

First OPA-Less Week Shows Some Startling Changes

(By Associated Press)

A sharp and sometimes spectacular upswing in a number of basic commodity prices stood out today as a salient feature of the nation's first OPA-less week since early 1942.

A survey of what actually has happened since price controls lapsed at midnight last Sunday showed that while retail prices in many lines held fairly steady on meat, butter and milk being frequent exceptions—these developments spotlighted the wholesale commodity markets.

Flour at Minneapolis jumped from $3.24 to $4.80 per hundred pounds.

Cattle at Chicago soared from a standing start of $18.00 per hundredweight to an all-time record high of $22.50 before sliding back to $22.25 under a flood of receipts.

Hog Prices Set Record
Hog prices at Chicago broke all records since 1919 by advancing from $14.85 a hundredweight a week ago to $18.50. At the closing yesterday prices were back to $16.00 as hog receipts leaped from 2,500 one Friday to 30,000 the next.

Cotton at New York jumped more than $4.00 a bale in immediate response to the elimination of OPA, but slid back quickly. It closed last week at 31.65 cents a pound, went to a historic peak of 32.15 on Monday, and back at 31.73 at the close yesterday.

Wool tops in New York went from $13.3 a pound to $14.00 from one Friday to the next.

Cash wheat in Chicago stood at $1.97 and $2.18 a bushel on these same days, with the latter price a peak since November, 1930.

Corn jumped from $1.44 to $2.25 a bushel and oats from 89 cents to $1.04.

Butter in the Chicago wholesale market rose to 70.75 cents a pound from 56 under OPA.

Wholesale Prices Up

Under the impact of these and other increases the Associated Press index of weighted wholesale spot prices on 35 commodities stood today at 133.76, the highest point since its inception in 1933. Based on 1928 averages as 100, the index tested at 122.28 when the lapse of OPA was sealed a week ago.

When, how and if all these price jumps would be translated into the final cost of what people eat and wear was a matter of conjecture.

During this week of considerable confusion for businessmen generally, a spot check on retail prices in big and little communities in the East, West, North and South produced a mixed pattern.

In Chicago, for example, the consumer prices on meat, milk, butter, bread, restaurant meals, clothing and rent held fairly steady.

A number of other cities reported similarly.

But in many others the prices in one of more of these categories were up sharply, with meat generally more than 50 per cent, and boosts in milk and rents frequently reported.

Patrol Wagon Argument Results In Gun Death

KENTON, July 6.—Hardin County Prosecutor Rex Hanna asserted today he would file murder charges against 23-year-old Harry McKee, Jr., in connection with the patrol wagon shooting of the youth's father.

McKee, Sr., 47-year-old newly-elected commander of the Second district of Veterans of Foreign Wars, was shot and killed last night in a police wagon. The shooting stemmed from an argument after the two were loaded in the wagon following a complaint by neighbors of fighting in the McKee home.

SOVIET VETO PLAN BLOCKS PEACE TALKS

U. S., Britain Object To Russian Demand For Rules of Procedure

By JOSEPH DYNAN

PARIS, July 6.—British-American opposition to a Russian demand that the Big Four prescribe rules of procedure for a general European peace conference this summer blocked efforts of the foreign ministers' council today to convoke the 21-nation convocation on July 29, the date already fixed.

Both Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin contended throughout a stormy four-hour session last night adoption of the Soviet proposal would reduce the peace parley to "rubber stamp" status but Russian Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov adamantly maintained his position.

With the shadow of the big power veto clouding their efforts, the ministers convened again today for renewed discussion of the problem in another effort to prepare and transmit the necessary invitations for the peace conference to the 17 other nations.

Hope To Avoid Veto Threat

Observers appeared convinced the basic motivation for U. S. policy was a desire to throw international problems into an arena where the big power veto could not be exercised.

These sources said that without the veto the Western powers have the votes to beat Russia on a conflict and that Molotov realizes this, which is the reason for his insistence that the council—where he has veto power—dictate the rules for the peace conference—where he does not.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault suggested France as the host country merely "inform" the other nations that a peace conference was scheduled to begin July 29 and that invitations be sent later, but Molotov said this would only serve to confuse.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) said Molotov also objected to making China one of the inviting powers along with Great Britain, France, Russia and the United States on the ground China had not participated in the Paris council session.

Would Include China

The Michigan senator said Byrnes and Bevin argued that China as a member of the foreign ministers' council of the Big Five, should be one of the inviting powers, since the Moscow and Potsdam declarations said the invitations should be extended by the foreign ministers' council and not some members of it.

Byrnes finally agreed to eliminate China as an inviting power if the invitations were sent out at once, but then Molotov proposed his amendment for prescribing the rules of the peace conference and Byrnes put his foot down.

Near the end of the session, Molotov proposed that the entire problem be referred to the deputy foreign ministers and that the council itself proceed to discussion of German peace treaty questions. Byrnes stood firm, however, and the meeting broke up without any agreement.

SLAYER COMMITTED TO STATE HOSPITAL

CANTON, July 6.—Charged with killing a patrolman in a shooting duel in the Massillon police station June 12, Lester M. Martin, 26-year-old navy veteran, will be committed to the Massillon state hospital.

Martin, who doctors said probably would die "within two or three months" of a bullet injury received in the shooting, was adjudged insane yesterday after the doctors testified before Common Pleas Judge A. C. L. Barthelme.

Martin, who lived in Navarre near Massillon, was charged with first degree murder in the shooting of Patrolman Myron J. Henderson. According to two civilians who were in the station with the patrolman, Martin rushed in, said he was from the FBI and was "taking over" and then opened fire.

Martin later was shot by Patrolman Joseph Slinger, when Martin refused to drop his gun.

Dr. John D. O'Brien of Massillon testified at the hearing that Martin had been a mental patient while serving in the navy. Dr. Arthur G. Hyde, superintendent of the Massillon state hospital, and Dr. J. S. Williams of Massillon also appeared at the session.

Echoes of OPA's Death Rattle

Feature of a recent demonstration by 5000 people in Chicago's Loop section, protesting end of OPA and rent controls, was this "funeral" for the defunct agency. Four "pall-bearers" wear the names of Senators Taft, Brooks, Wherry and O'Daniel on their hats.

The 350-foot roll of paper, pictured above, on a Washington, D. C., street, carries the pledges of 1500 disgruntled housewives and other consumers to buy nothing but basic necessities if OPA price controls are not restored. The lengthy pledge was made up by the National Emergency Committee for Price Control and presented to the National Association of Manufacturers.

U. S. Holiday Death Toll Near 300 Mark

The death toll from violent causes as the nation celebrated an extended Fourth of July weekend holiday inched toward the 300 mark today.

With millions swarming bathing beaches and highways, the bulk of the violent deaths resulted from traffic accidents and drownings.

Since 6 p. m. Wednesday until early today, at least 269 persons had suffered violent deaths, which was below the estimated total made by the National Safety Council.

It said that in the four-day holiday period 1,300 persons would die violently, including 450 in traffic accidents, and that of the 800 probably killed out right 275 would be traffic fatalities.

Today's survey showed 122 persons had been killed in accidents on the highways; 79 had drowned and 68 others died from miscellaneous causes.

In 1941 when the nation observed a three-day Independence day holiday 608 persons suffered violent deaths.

Communications Aided By New Type of Tube

NEW YORK, July 6 — A basically new type vacuum tube that provides an electronic super-highway for communications was announced today by the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

Its two principal advantages, say engineers, are that a signal can be amplified at least 10,000 times, compared to a 10-fold increase possible with previous tubes; and a greatly enlarged number of messages or other radio signals can be handled simultaneously.

The device is expected to be important in facilitating cross-country television, and will have widespread application in various systems of long-distance shortwave telephony. More than 10,000 conversations, one hundred million words of telegraph, a minute, or several dozen television shows can be handled at one time—should traffic ever become that great.

Called a traveling wave tube, the device is about 18 inches long with a squat bulb at one end that tapers into a long finger of glass. Inside the finger is a coil of wire that looks like a thin spring. In the bulb is an electron gun which fires a stream of electrons down the tube through the coil.

Atomic Bomb Blast Would Leave Fleet Helpless On Ocean

By LOUIS SPILMAN

ABOARD THE U. S. S. APPALACHIAN, July 6 (AP Via Navy Radio)—Had the first atomic bomb test July 1 been combat action, the power of the fleet struck would have been wiped out, Brigadier General Roger M. Ramey, AAF commanding officer of Task Group 1, Joint Task Force 1, said today in an exclusive interview.

The test fleet consisted of 30 combat ships, 30 supporting ships and 13 other floating targets.

The general amplified his statement by pointing out that 16 ships representing all types in the target array were completely eliminated from combat and 25 to 30 others were damaged to a lesser degree.

Five ships sank; 11 others suffered deadly damage to their boilers from the force of the blast rushing down the ship's stacks during the first horrible few seconds.

With boiler casings ripped and useless, power to maneuver was gone. Unable to fight they would be mere sitting ducks waiting to be sunk without difficulty in whatever manner attackers chose. It would require three weeks to repair boilers.

The personnel topside on ships within a half-mile of the blast would have been killed instantly; 50 per cent of the men inside ships would have been instantaneous casualties.

Radioactivity, it is believed, would subsequently take out of combat through death or illness virtually every man in the fleet.

Architect Presents Plans For New High School, Grade Buildings

A definite decision on just what Salem's public school enlargement program will be has not been reached by the board of education but progress on the preliminary plans for the program eventually to be adopted was made at a special meeting of the board with Architect Paul Boucherle of Youngstown at the High school building Friday night.

The board is weighing the merits of two distinct plans.

One calls for four-room additions to Prospect and McKinley schools, abandonment of Columbia Street school, enlargement of Reilly school to a 20-room structure, remodeling of the Fourth Street building into a three-year Junior High school and the construction of a new 18-room grade school in the northern section of the city.

The High school would be used in its present capacity, serving three grades instead of four.

The Second Plan

The other plan is essentially the same in the grades, except that in place of a new grade school building a new Senior High school would be erected, the present High school made into a three-year Junior High and Fourth Street completely remodeled and enlarged for use as a grade school for the northern section of the city.

Although no decision was reached, cost estimates last night led the board to favor the plan involving a new High school building.

The board, however, has asked Boucherle and Supt. E. S. Kerr to make a more detailed study of the two plans including suggested changes in the preliminary layouts with a view to reaching agreement at a special meeting July 23 on the outcome of their findings.

The board expects to have its program completely arranged and ready for public consideration early in August.

The plan adopted will be presented to Salem voters at the November election in the form of a bond issue.

The amount of the bond issue depends on definite decisions as to the program to be adopted and the size of the improvements included in it.

Learn of Parties In Munitions Probe

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Testimony about costly parties, rare Scotch whisky and the wartime influence here of an Illinois munitions combine whetted the curiosity of the senate war investigating committee today.

The committee called Brig. Gen. Roswell Hardy of army ordnance to explain why he suggested in 1944 that Batavia Metal Products Co. be given a big order for the manufacture of eight-inch shells.

Earlier testimony indicated that Batavia—one of 19 closely-linked concerns whose complicated operations and high profits are under study—got the order within a half hour after the suggestion without competitive bidding.

Committee members said Hardy will be asked whether the suggestion was advanced at the request of Rep. May (D-Ky), chairman of the influential house military committee. Other army ordnance officers asserted yesterday that May put "pressure" on them in the interests of Batavia.

Col. John Slesak, also linked May to a "highly unusual" army-navy efficiency award granted to Batavia only after Secretary of War Patterson—then undersecretary—asked for speedy consideration.

MILLER QUILTS DEM. HELM IN CUYAHOGA

CLEVELAND, July 6.—Cuyahoga county Democrats were baffled today by the resignation of Ray T. Miller as county chairman of their party's central committee.

The resignation, made public by Miller's office after he had left for a Canadian holiday, gave "the pressure of law practice private business enterprises" as the reason for surrendering the Democratic leadership of the state's most populous county.

But other Democratic leaders indicated the move was unexpected. Felix T. Matia, vice president of the county central committee, said he was "completely surprised" by the resignation.

Buttering A Crumb of Comfort

There are two ways of evaluating passage of the Hobbs bill making it specifically illegal to rob or extort persons engaged in interstate commerce.

One is to bear in mind that this fatuous legislation never would have been necessary if the Supreme Court in 1942 hadn't tortured a federal statute into meaning that no one could commit robbery or extortion and get away with it except labor unions; and that it represents the only new law dealing with labor to come out of Congress during a session in which unions struck twice against the government of the United States.

The other is to bear in mind that the Hobbs bill, which has been kicked in and out of legislative pigeonholes, finally made the grade because congressional patience had reached the breaking point. It is a crumb of comfort for those who believe Congress is as capable of rising to the occasion of dealing with labor barons who dictate to government as it is capable of dealing with any other group of citizens who get too big for their star-spangled britches.

To be sure, before the Truman administration felt safe in legalizing the crumb it was buttered carefully by Mr. Truman and his attorney general, both of whom went a long way out of their way to assure labor unions that nothing in the Hobbs bill possibly can be construed as meaning a labor union's style is going to be cramped in performance of any legitimate act. The ordinary citizen, who has and expects no special privileges, takes it for granted this means he and the unions now are on the same footing as far as robbing and extorting interstate commerce are concerned. The ordinary citizen always went to jail if he did it and got caught, but after 1942 labor unionists went to town.

As Others See Us

The typewriter tempest stirred by a visiting Russian newsman's annoying criticisms of the United States is reminiscent of a similar annoyance which visiting English journalists have carried on successfully with pointed and slanted jibes at our cherished way of life.

In the time of Charles Dickens this used to be almost a fighting issue. It was so full of explosive possibilities that English journalists and lecturers exploited it to the last drop. They put into practice what Dickens discovered, that it pays to criticize Americans. We hate it, but gladly pay to hear it and read about it. We are affronted down to the grass roots at misrepresentations, but never have quit pleading with visiting firemen to take down their hair and tell us "what you really think of the United States."

The truth is that everybody hates to be criticized. To be seen as others see us is never pleasant, particularly when the observer is trying to prove we are unfit for human society. The Russians themselves are as sensitive as anyone else. For example, they are having a nose bleed at the moment because Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee, who doesn't happen to be a journalist, told an English audience Russia is a century behind the times. But there is a definite advantage in this kind of thing.

Once the worst is known, as it has been known now for a long time by Britain and the United States, it ceases to be a shock and becomes a fair-to-middling basis of getting along together. When we have heard all of Russia's misrepresentations and Russia has heard all of ours, perhaps we can carry on from there and arrive eventually at a point where familiarity will have bred so much contempt that contempt itself can be stabilized.

Tougher Than Bilbo

The effort to cleanse the United States Senate of Theodore C. Bilbo by ridicule on the eve of the Mississippi primary ran into something tougher than the battered little demagog who has been giving his state a black eye for 12 long years.

Bilbo is destructible, a passing phenomenon of one-party politics in a backward state. At his worst, he is no worse than Huey P. Long was at his worst in Louisiana—and Huey has been departed a long time. But the political thing that Bilbo shrewdly exploits is no passing phenomenon. State sovereignty will survive Bilbo and all the Americans who underestimate its potency.

Mississippi has been put on the defensive by a belief that outsiders are trying to influence its politics. Bilbo is the accidental and unworthy beneficiary of the state's natural reaction. What has happened to him in Mississippi is going to happen in other states, particularly southern states. Outsiders scheming to influence the outcome of state politics should take their lesson from the little rabble-rouser who will be taking the senatorial oath to defend the Constitution next January with his fingers crossed.

Buyers' Strikes

Stories of prospective buyers walking away from merchandise beyond their price range are getting attention out of proportion to the importance of such incidents. Surely there is nothing new about bargaining.

The attention apparently is connected in some way to the threats of organized buyers' strikes which some persons are taking seriously. Such strikes occurred after World War I. Economists cannot agree what they accomplished, if anything. In due course of time, however, prices came down—and kept coming down. The depression of 1920-1922 materialized out of the simultaneous decline in economic activity, a reminder that those who are loudly seeing nothing but runaway inflation ahead today could be just as wrong as those who saw nothing but inflation ahead at about the same time after World War I.

The Stars Say
For Sunday, July 7

SUNDAY'S horoscope shows a day in which it might be well to work along lines of least resistance, since the spirits, energies and physical condition may be on the negative side, with little inclination to attack any important projects. A day of rest, relaxation and an effort to bolster up the exhausted or flagging vitality might prove of real benefit and long-range climax.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a year in which adhering to routine tactics, with fidelity to old and tried ways and means, being systematic and not too ambitious, may build firm future foundations.

The health may demand attention, as under this vibration the spirits, energies and vitality are likely to be depressed or below par. Make it a time of relaxation or study, perhaps of serious and lasting subjects.

A child born on this day may not possess a vital temperament or ambitious tendencies, possibly owing to a negative state of health or spirits. It might find profit and stimuli in study of a serious quality.

For Monday, July 8

Monday's astrological forecast shows greatly accelerated energies and ambitions, with the forces, vitality and skill under high pressure for tackling major propositions of novel and vital significance. Under this spur of initiative and enterprise it may be well to confer with those in important places, whose capital and advice are essential, since the personal judgment may not be entirely dependable. Avoid argument and cross purposes and make changes with consideration, not under impulse or emotions.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a splendid year of achievement, through their own fine initiative, skill and aggressiveness, sustained by the capital or endorsement of those in influential places.

However, these may have to be managed with calm and sound logic and judgment, minus friction, force or conflict. Much may be gained by giving in when wiser heads and more practical experience are available. Make changes or journeys with due consideration, not under impulse or emotional pressure.

A child born on this day may have excellent abilities for building up a constructive and adventurous career, supported and approved by those in high positions. Over-zealous or emotional urges should be tempered.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH
Danger Signs of Cancer

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

CANCER research moves at a snail's pace, this despite the fact that hundreds of our best medical scientists devote their lives to this study. Neither separately nor all together have they been able to make this dread disease yield the secret of its cause.

Yet, and this is the important, vital thing, if we never learn one more fact about cancer than we know today, we still have enough knowledge to save about five million people now living who will, statistics say, some day become its victims.

Greater Awareness

All that is needed is greater awareness on the part of the average man and woman. If only they would learn the danger signals of this disease and seek proper medical treatment at the first sign of trouble!

It cannot be said that early cancer, and early cancer is the only curable cancer, will never hit you over the head and bowl you over. It is stealthy and slow but very, very sure unless treatment is begun early.

So often fatalities result because people neglect certain symptoms in the belief that they will clear up of themselves or that they indicate only some mild disorder.

For example, constipation which develops suddenly may be a sign of blocking of the bowel by a cancer, and yet there are many other causes for this condition such as poor habits or wrong diet.

It is unfortunate that cancer, when it first starts, does not produce any pain for persons as a rule will seek relief from pain. A sore on the skin which does not heal in the normal time may be a beginning skin cancer. Continued coughing may be a sign of beginning cancer of the lung.

Symptoms So Varied

Of course, it would be impossible to outline all of the symptoms of cancer in various parts of the body in an article as short as this.

The symptoms will depend on where the cancer is located. One of the best means of protection is for everyone to have a complete examination at least once and, better, twice a year, and such an examination should include inspection of all of the various parts of the body, with X-rays where they are needed.

Some hint as to what may prove to be a cause of cancer was given recently when Drs. Robert G. Green and John Bittner of the University of Minnesota discovered that breast cancer in mice is caused by a filterable virus, that is, an organism so small that it can pass through the openings in a porcelain filter. They also developed a serum which kills these mouse cancer cells in test tubes.

Of course, this does not mean that cancers are caused in the same way in human beings, but it does indicate a line along which research may be carried out. Until the cause of cancer is determined and some specific method of preventing it is found, we must rely on the known means of treatment which include early operation, radium and X-ray.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 43th st., New York City.

Lisbon's New Utility Tax Goes Into Effect Aug. 1

LISBON, July 6—The new utility tax of one-half of one per cent on electricity, telephone, gas and water, will become effective Aug. 1, under the provisions of an emergency ordinance adopted by village council.

The ordinance provides a penalty of $10 for conviction for the first offense for failure to pay the tax and a $200 fine for conviction on each subsequent offense.

It is estimated that the tax will give the village an additional revenue of from $5,000 to $6,000 annually, the revenue to be used for the purchase of additional street equipment and the payment of higher wages to village employees.

Half of New Jersey's land is covered with forests.

Buttering A Crumb of Comfort

There are two ways of evaluating passage of the Hobbs bill making it specifically illegal to rob or extort persons engaged in interstate commerce.

One is to bear in mind that this fatuous legislation never would have been necessary if the Supreme Court in 1942 hadn't tortured a federal statute into meaning that no one could commit robbery or extortion and get away with it except labor unions; and that it represents the only new law dealing with labor to come out of Congress during a session in which unions struck twice against the government of the United States.

The other is to bear in mind that the Hobbs bill, which has been kicked in and out of legislative pigeonholes, finally made the grade because congressional patience had reached the breaking point. It is a crumb of comfort for those who believe Congress is as capable of rising to the occasion of dealing with labor barons who dictate to government as it is capable of dealing with any other group of citizens who get too big for their star-spangled britches.

To be sure, before the Truman administration felt safe in legalizing the crumb it was buttered carefully by Mr. Truman and his attorney general, both of whom went a long way out of their way to assure labor unions that nothing in the Hobbs bill possibly can be construed as meaning a labor union's style is going to be cramped in performance of any legitimate act. The ordinary citizen, who has and expects no special privileges, takes it for granted this means he and the unions now are on the same footing as far as robbing and extorting interstate commerce are concerned. The ordinary citizen always went to jail if he did it and got caught, but after 1942 labor unionists went to town.

As Others See Us

The typewriter tempest stirred by a visiting Russian newsman's annoying criticisms of the United States is reminiscent of a similar annoyance which visiting English journalists have carried on successfully with pointed and slanted jibes at our cherished way of life.

In the time of Charles Dickens this used to be almost a fighting issue. It was so full of explosive possibilities that English journalists and lecturers exploited it to the last drop. They put into practice what Dickens discovered, that it pays to criticize Americans. We hate it, but gladly pay to hear it and read about it. We are affronted down to the grass roots at misrepresentations, but never have quit pleading with visiting firemen to take down their hair and tell us "what you really think of the United States."

The truth is that everybody hates to be criticized. To be seen as others see us is never pleasant, particularly when the observer is trying to prove we are unfit for human society. The Russians themselves are as sensitive as anyone else. For example, they are having a nose bleed at the moment because Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee, who doesn't happen to be a journalist, told an English audience Russia is a century behind the times. But there is a definite advantage in this kind of thing.

Once the worst is known, as it has been known now for a long time by Britain and the United States, it ceases to be a shock and becomes a fair-to-middling basis of getting along together. When we have heard all of Russia's misrepresentations and Russia has heard all of ours, perhaps we can carry on from there and arrive eventually at a point where familiarity will have bred so much contempt that contempt itself can be stabilized.

Tougher Than Bilbo

The effort to cleanse the United States Senate of Theodore C. Bilbo by ridicule on the eve of the Mississippi primary ran into something tougher than the battered little demagog who has been giving his state a black eye for 12 long years.

Bilbo is destructible, a passing phenomenon of one-party politics in a backward state. At his worst, he is no worse than Huey P. Long was at his worst in Louisiana—and Huey has been departed a long time. But the political thing that Bilbo shrewdly exploits is no passing phenomenon. State sovereignty will survive Bilbo and all the Americans who underestimate its potency.

Mississippi has been put on the defensive by a belief that outsiders are trying to influence its politics. Bilbo is the accidental and unworthy beneficiary of the state's natural reaction. What has happened to him in Mississippi is going to happen in other states, particularly southern states. Outsiders scheming to influence the outcome of state politics should take their lesson from the little rabble-rouser who will be taking the senatorial oath to defend the Constitution next January with his fingers crossed.

Buyers' Strikes

Stories of prospective buyers walking away from merchandise beyond their price range are getting attention out of proportion to the importance of such incidents. Surely there is nothing new about bargain-hunting.

The attention apparently is connected in some way to the threats of organized buyers' strikes which some persons are taking seriously. Such strikes occurred after World War I. Economists cannot agree what they accomplished, if anything. In due course of time, however, prices came down—and kept coming down. The depression of 1920-1922 materialized out of the simultaneous decline in economic activity, a reminder that those who are loudly seeing nothing but runaway inflation ahead today could be just as wrong as those who saw nothing but inflation ahead at about the same time after World War I.

The Stars Say
For Sunday, July 7

SUNDAY'S horoscope shows a day in which it might be well to work along lines of least resistance, since the spirits, energies and physical condition may be on the negative side, with little inclination to attack any important projects. A day of rest, relaxation and an effort to bolster up the exhausted or flagging vitality might prove of real benefit and long-range climax.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a year in which adhering to routine tactics, with fidelity to old and tried ways and means, being systematic and not too ambitious, may build firm future foundations.

The health may demand attention, as under this vibration the spirits, energies and vitality are likely to be depressed or below par. Make it a time of relaxation or study, perhaps of serious and lasting subjects.

A child born on this day may not possess a vital temperament or ambitious tendencies, possibly owing to a negative state of health or spirits. It might find profit and stimuli in study of a serious quality.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A WOMAN'S VIEWS

Editor, The News:
I do not believe the trouble Mr.
Stoffer had could greatly influence the small children of this community. I believe the people of Salem would do better if they would try to find some recreation in which the children could spend their leisure hours. I also believe if Mr. Stoffer intended to kill the lady he could easily have done so considering the weapons he used.

Perhaps, Mr. Hickey, the parents in your end of town are also to blame. Blaming one man for our children becoming out of hand is a little silly. If, instead of trying to punish one man, you would use your time in helping the children, you would do better. There is no swimming pool or skating rink. Perhaps you could try to get these for the children.

I learned in High school that an officer is bonded to carry concealed weapons, also that a police officer has to either see a crime committed or have a warrant to arrest.

Pardon me, Mr. Hickey, if I'm wrong, I'm willing to learn.
Hoping you and the readers of Salem consider this seriously, I remain.

Flashes Of Life

DENVER WOMAN STARTS OWN HOUSING DRIVE
DENVER—Mrs. L. B. Peak, a retired school teacher, heard Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pacer had been evicted from their home. She fixed up an apartment in her house and gave it to them rent free.

Then she read that Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Keller and their three children were out on the streets. She remodeled her garage to make room for them.

"Why do I do it?" she said. "Because I just love children and can't bear to see them put out of their homes."

ANOTHER GROUNDHOG HAS HIS DAY
BROCKTON, Mass.—How many times can a woodchuck duck? Two—because that's all I had with me. I actually confessed Archer, the groundhog, who drew his bow in Mr. Chuck from a bedroom window. The first arrow plunked harmlessly into the burrow the groundhog dug in Valentine's garden and the second hit the mound just above the creature's head. Then, added the bowman, "That pesky woodchuck grabbed the Archer between his paws and started to chew the feathers on the end of the shaft!"

BERMUDA BICYCLE THIEF GETS THREE-YEAR TERM
HAMILTON, Bermuda—In the Thoms Assizes, a Bermuda court, a man led guilty of stabbing his wife and another was convicted of stealing a bicycle. Each got the same sentence—three years at hard labor.

"Bicycle stealing," Chief Justice Brooke Francis told the bike thief, "is a very despicable, mean and dirty trick. In most cases, the bicycles belong to people who have to ride them to and from their daily labor."

Sports Add Zest To Outdoor Life

By ALICIA HART

Accept spring's invitation to come out of doors. While you're there, you'll find more exhilaration and gain more psychological release if you'll flex your muscles.

Brisk walking is a fine start that will give you these benefits. Ditto golf, to which you can add the zest of a highly competitive sport and trunk-twisters that will give you a more spare-ribbed midriff.

Cycling is a standing invitation to spend an hour or so out of doors. It is more fun when you organize your friends into a cycling society.

Horseback riding gives you the exhilaration of movement on an elevated plane. Even such mild activities as shooting arrows, you-know-not-what's, pitching quoits or batting around a croquet ball will give a lazy bones a release from tensions by deinking mind and muscles.

Sports Add Zest To Outdoor Life

By ALICIA HART

Accept spring's invitation to come out of doors. While you're there, you'll find more exhilaration and gain more psychological release if you'll flex your muscles.

Brisk walking is a fine stunt that will give you these benefits. Ditto golf, to which you can add the zest of a highly competitive sport and trunk-twisters that will give you a more spare-ribbed midriff.

Cycling is a standing invitation to spend an hour or so out of doors. It is more fun when you organize your friends into a cycling society.

Horseback riding gives you the exhilaration of movement on an elevated plane. Even such mild activities as shooting arrows you-know-not-where, pitching quoits or batting around a croquet ball will give a lazy bones a release from tensions by deinking mind and muscles.

• SO THEY SAY

Human events have thrust world citizenship upon us. Even if we did not ask for it, we have no choice in the matter.

—Sen. Wayne L. Morse (R) of Oregon.

There are today very few people so naive as to imagine that when Russia gets atomic energy in amounts adequate for military use, the rulers of Russia will be restrained by the same considerations which make it unlikely that we will ever use the atomic bomb except in retaliation, and then perhaps too late.

—Dr. William Y. Elliott of Harvard U.

Last September, when the last of our enemies surrendered in Tokyo Bay, this country stood at the pinnacle of its power. But since then, every one of us ought to be profoundly ashamed of the exhibition the American people have made of themselves.

—Elmer Davis, former OWI director.

Mankind itself would not have an even chance of survival in an atomic war.

—Sen. Harley M. Kilgore (D) of West Virginia.

MACKENZIE'S Column

BY J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

When the representatives of the United States and Britain went to Paris June 15 for what Foreign Minister Beven described as "one last effort" to reach some sort of accord with Russia on European peace, they were not too hopeful.

A similar meeting a few weeks before, like the one in London which preceded it, had broken apart on the rocks of Russian intransigence.

Then, one by one, things began to happen. Although the problems of Germany underlay everything, a peace treaty for Italy—involving disposition of her colonies, Russian demands for handholds in the Mediterranean, and Trieste—was the most immediate problem.

Suddenly Russia agreed the Dodecanese islands should be returned to Greece, the British should take the colonies under a kind of mandate pending final settlement. Trieste should remain under the United Nations for a time. An agreement on control of the Danube seems to be approaching.

In return, Russia got the reparations she had been demanding from Italy, but conceded payment should not start for two years.

That the result is a Jerry-built house none can deny. The 21-nations which will meet July 29 to ratify the various treaties which the foreign ministers have negotiated will find themselves working on "stop gap legislation."

The mere fact the ministers have agreed on anything at all marks a tremendous stride. Three weeks ago it looked very much like they would split up, throwing the whole problem into the lap of the United Nations. Byrnes threatened to do so if agreement was not reached, and Bevin concurred.

But more important than the results are the indications that Western threats were not primarily responsible. There is evidence, cited in this column previously, that Moscow decided before June 15 that an accord with the United States was more important than any or all of the gains for which she had been holding out.

It is too early to say that everything will run smoothly from now on. There is fundamental cleavage between the Soviet and the British empire which is still scheduled to produce many a headache. Unless the Soviets give up the idea that Western ways are a threat to their existence which must be eliminated, the life of any accord must be comparatively short. The new attitude toward the United States seems to be based as much on practicality as on principle. But every breather, every acceptance of co-operation, provides that much more opportunity to spread the conviction that no boundary, no local or temporary gain, no extension of power, no sop to national pride, can ever prove as valuable as peace.

SO THEY SAY

Human events have thrust world citizenship upon us. Even if we did not ask for it, we have no choice in the matter.

—Sen. Wayne L. Morse (R) of Oregon.

There are today very few people so naive as to imagine that when Russia gets atomic energy in amounts adequate for military use, the rulers of Russia will be restrained by the same considerations which make it unlikely that we will ever use the atomic bomb except in retaliation, and then perhaps too late.

—Dr. William Y. Elliott of Harvard U.

Last September, when the last of our enemies surrendered in Tokyo Bay, this country stood at the pinnacle of its power. But since then, every one of us ought to be profoundly ashamed of the exhibition the American people have made of themselves.

—Elmer Davis, former OWI director.

Mankind itself would not have an even chance of survival in an atomic war.

Detroit Tigers Rebounding With Second Pennant Spirit

INJURIES NIP EARLY CHANCE, BEGIN AGAIN

Tigers Have Played 500
Ball All Season, But
Now Show Zip

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Steve O'Neill's battered and bruised Detroit Tigers, all but counted out of the American league pennant race, were back on their feet today ready to resume their quest for their second straight flag.

Handicapped by injuries to their star players which at various times forced them to play without the services of outfielders Dick Wakefield and Hoot Evers, Second Baseman Eddie Mayo, Catcher Paul Richards and Pitchers Dizzy Trout and Stubby Overmire, the Tigers have been hovering around the 500 mark practically since the start of the season.

Gain On Boston

But during the past week, the third place Tigers, with true championship spirit, have come back to win six of their last eight games to cut two and a half games off the Red Sox awesome lead and now trail by 11 games.

The Tigers moved up to within three and a half games of second place yesterday by whipping the Cleveland Indians 7-5 in a twilight tussle.

The Red Sox increased their margin to seven and a half games over the runner-up Yankees, coming from behind to defeat the Athletics 5-2 with a four-run rally in the eighth.

Goody Rosen, who was sold by the Brooklyn Dodgers to the New York Giants earlier this season, singled in the ninth to score Johnny Mize with the run that gave the Giants a 7-6 victory over the Dodgers. The Dodgers had just tied the score in their half of the ninth when Pee Wee Reese homered. The defeat narrowed the National league leading, Dodgers' margin to six games over the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals, who shaded the Chicago Cubs 1-0.

Pirates In Cellar

In a pitching duel between Pittsburgh's Rip Sewell and Cincinnati's Bucky Walters, the Reds outlasted the Pirates 4-3 to dump the Bucs into the National league cellar behind the Giants.

DODGE NINE GAINS SPLIT WITH CANTON

Salem's Althouse Dodge nine divided a double header with the Canton W & R Sports Thursday at Lake Placid, losing the first game 6-5 and winning the nightcap 3-2.

Canton bested the Dodge ace, Lefty Heinaman, although outbatted by the Salem club nine to seven. Five runs in the eighth inning proved to be the deciding margin for the visitors.

The second tilt saw "Bus" Simpson limit the Sports to five bingles, in winning the seven inning contest.

Bugara, Althouse shortstop, collected two safeties in each game to pace the local strikers.

presented with a six-run second inning lead, coasted to a 6-1 triumph over the Yankees.

Cliff Fannin, making his first major league start, turned in splendid shutout achievement as he pitched the St. Louis Browns to a 1-0 decision over the Chicago White Sox.

The Philadelphia Phillies and Boston Braves were not scheduled

East Liverpool Man Named Ohio State Athletic Head As St. John Resigns Job

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, July 6.—L. W. St. John, whose firm 31-year reign as athletic director at Ohio State university encountered a series of controversial publicity disturbances during the last two years, is stepping aside for youth.

For "Saint," who will be 70 in November and will be automatically retired next July, now has a successor.

He is the relatively unknown

Richard C. Larkins, 37-year-old associate professor of physical education at OSU. Larkins, who is the same age St. John was when he began office, will take over July 1, 1947.

His appointment, announced last night by the OSU athletic board, is subject to approval by the school's board of trustees. But board members said this would be a "mere formality."

St. John's venture into the headlines started back in 1944 when his head football coach, Paul Brown, was given military leave to enter the Navy. Brown's shoes were filled by Carroll Widdoes, who was acting head coach that year guided Ohio State to its first unbeaten and untied football season since 1920.

The football fortunes of the Buckeyes continued bright through 1945, even after Paul Brown announced his resignation and Widdoes was named head coach. During that season, Ohio State won eight games and lost two, once to Purdue and again to its traditional rival, Michigan.

Hit Front Pages

But St. John's largest headlines came just as 1946 began. A story started buzzing around that Widdoes was on his way out. "Saint," when asked for confirmation, called it a "wild pipe dream" and insisted that "Widdoes is still head coach."

About two days later, St. John and the athletic board announced an unprecedented action in big-school football. Widdoes and Assistant Coach Paul Bixler were to trade jobs.

Then, just as that controversy was easing up a bit, an Ohio State Alumni magazine rolled off the press with an article quoting St. John as saying that OSU was "fortunate" in no longer having Paul Brown on its staff.

The school's president, Howard L. Bevis, hastily issued a statement that the article did not express the feelings of the school and "wished Brown well." Brown had recently been appointed head of the Cleveland Browns, new professional football team.

Larkins' appointment came as a surprise to a large number of Monday morning quarterbacks. For many months it had been rumored that Harold Olsen, head basketball coach, would receive the job.

Chosen, the athletic board said, with the "strong endorsement" of St. John, he played varsity football and basketball at OSU. Later he was assistant coach there, then took over as head football mentor at the University of Rochester.

He was born April 19, 1909, at East Liverpool, where he was graduated from high school. Married to the former Eileen Todd of Wellsville, he has two children, Sally, 13, and Richard Todd, 11.

MULLINS COP 10TH WIN; RECS HUMBLD

Goodrich Wins First Round
Honors In Class B
Loop Play

Friday's Class A league tilt saw Mullins capture their 10th victory of the season at the expense of the Electric Furnace 4-3 in an exciting nine inning affair.

The Jaycees trounced the VFW 8-1 in the other American league game, handing the losers their 10th straight loss of the year.

The National loop had a wild and wooly game between the Recreation and the Salem Lunch, with the latter team scoring its second victory of the season 18-5. Washingtonville clipped the Saxons 7-2 in the final tilt of the evening.

The games caused no change in the American league standings and moved Washingtonville up from sixth to fourth place in the National loop.

Goodrich annexed the first round title in Class B by winning a double-header from the Theaters, 13-5, and from the Middies, 23-0.

Detroit Tigers Rebounding With Second Pennant Spirit

INJURIES NIP EARLY CHANCE, BEGIN AGAIN

Tigers Have Played .500
Ball All Season, But
Now Show Zip

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Steve O'Neill's battered and bruised Detroit Tigers, all but counted out of the American league pennant race, were back on their feet today ready to resume their quest for their second straight flag. Handicapped by injuries to their star players which at various times forced them to play without the services of Outfielders Dick Wakefield and Hoot Evers, Second Baseman Eddie Mayo, Catcher Paul Richards and Pitchers Dizzy Trout and Stubby Overmire, the Tigers have been hovering around the .500 mark practically since the start of the season.

Gain On Boston
But during the past week, the third place Tigers, with true championship spirit, have come back to win six of their last eight games to cut two and a half games off the Red Sox awesome lead and now trail by 11 games.

The Tigers moved up to within three and a half games of second place yesterday by whipping the Cleveland Indians 7-5 in a twilight tussle.

The Red Sox increased their margin to seven and a half games over the runner-up Yankees, coming from behind to defeat the Athletics 5-2 with a four-run rally in the eighth.

Goodie Rosen, who was sold by the Brooklyn Dodgers to the New York Giants earlier this season, singled in the ninth to score Johnny Mize with the run that gave the Giants a 7-6 victory over the Dodgers.

The Philadelphia Phillies and Boston Braves were not scheduled.

Pirates In Cellar

In a pitching duel between Pittsburgh's Rip Sewell and Cincinnati's Bucky Walters, the Reds outlasted the Pirates 4-3 to dump the Bucs into the National league cellar behind the Giants.

DODGE NINE GAINS SPLIT WITH CANTON

Salem's Althouse Dodge nine divided a double header with the Canton W & R Sports Thursday at Lake Placid, losing the first game 6-5 and winning the nightcap 3-2.

Canton bested the Dodge ace, Lefty Heinaman, although outbatted by the Salem club nine to seven. Five runs in the eighth inning proved to be the deciding margin for the visitors.

The second tilt saw "Bus" Simpson limit the Sports to five bingles, in winning the seven inning contest.

Bugars, Althouse shortstop, collected two safeties in each game to pace the local stickers.

East Liverpool Man Named Ohio State Athletic Head As St. John Resigns Job

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, July 6.—L. W. St. John, whose firm 31-year reign as athletic director at Ohio State university encountered a series of controversial publicity disturbances during the last two years, is stepping aside for youth.

For "Saint," who will be 70 in November and will be automatically retired next July, now has a successor.

He is the relatively unknown

Richard C. Larkins, 37-year-old associate professor of physical education at OSU. Larkins, who is the same age St. John was when he began office, will take over July 1, 1947.

His appointment, announced last night by the OSU athletic board, is subject to approval by the school's board of trustees. But board members said this would be a "mere formality."

St. John's venture into the headlines started back in 1944 when his head football coach, Paul Brown, was given military leave to enter the Navy. Brown's shoes were filled by Carroll Widdoes, who was acting head coach that year guided Ohio State to its first unbeaten and untied football season since 1920.

The football fortunes of the Bucks continued bright through 1945, even after Paul Brown announced his resignation and Widdoes was named head coach. During that season, Ohio State won eight games and lost two, once to Purdue and again to its traditional rival, Michigan.

Hit Front Pages

But St. John's largest headlines came just as 1946 began. A story started buzzing around that Widdoes was on his way out. "Saint," when asked for confirmation, called it a "wild pipe dream" and insisted that "Widdoes is still head coach."

About two days later, St. John and the athletic board announced an unprecedented action in big-school football: Widdoes and Assistant Coach Paul Bixler were to trade jobs.

Then, just as that controversy was easing up a bit, an Ohio State Alumni magazine rolled off the press with an article quoting St. John as saying that OSU was "fortunate" in no longer having Paul Brown on its staff.

The school's president, Howard L. Bevis, hastily issued a statement that the article did not express the feelings of the school and "wished Brown well." Brown had recently been appointed head of the Cleveland Browns, new professional football team.

Larkins' appointment came as a surprise to a large number of Monday morning quarterbacks. For many months it had been rumored that Harold Olsen, head basketball coach, would receive the job.

Chosen, the athletic board said, with the "strong endorsement" of St. John, he played varsity football and basketball at OSU. Later he was assistant coach there, then took over as head football mentor at the University of Rochester.

He was born April 19, 1909, at East Liverpool, where he was graduated from high school. Married to the former Eileen Todd of Wellsville, he has two children, Sally, 13, and Richard Todd, 11.

COPPOCKS ANNEX FIRST HALF TITLE

Coppocks annexed the first half title of the Firestone Park softball league, Columbiana, Friday by defeating Winning-Lake 6-2 for its sixth win in seven starts.

In the other league fray the Booster outfit defeated the Raiders 4-3 to step into a tie for second place.

The final standings for the half have Coppocks first (6-1), Boosters and Raiders tie for second (5-2), Winning-Lake and Lehman's tied for fourth (4-2), Farmers Sixth (2-6), South Side (1-6) and Good Cheer last (0-7).

High School Sports At Wellsville Show Deficit

WELLSVILLE, July 6.—The board of education today reported a net loss of $662 in high school sports, with football topping the list with $1,016.03 in the red, during the 1945-46 season.

Basketball showed a profit of $472.91 but baseball added $119.79 to the debit side of the ledger. However, a bank balance of $1,133.13 compared with $1,776.04 a year ago was listed.

Basketball receipts were $1,550.78 while football income totaled $5,940.96.

MULLINS COP 10TH WIN; RECS HUMBLD

Goodrich Wins First Round
Honors In Class B
Loop Play

Friday's Class A league tilts saw Mullins capture their 10th victory of the season at the expense of the Electric Furnace 4-3 in an exciting nine inning affair.

The Jaycees trounced the VFW 8-1 in the other American league game, handing the losers their 10th straight loss of the year.

The National loop had a wild and woolly game between the Recreation and the Salem Lunch, with the latter team scoring its second victory of the season 18-5. Washingtonville clipped the Saxons 7-2 in the final tilt of the evening.

The games caused no change in the American league standings and moved Washingtonville up from sixth to fourth place in the National loop.

Goodrich annexed the first round title in Class B by winning a double-header from the Theaters, 13-5, and from the Middies, 23-9.

Boyle's COLUMN

BY HAL BOYLE

BERLIN — The number one problem faced by a German newspaperman these days is the entirely new political structure of Germany caused by the loss of the war and the occupation of the country.

He must think in foreign and local policy at the same time. The entirely different ideas of democracy which the four great powers represent give no basis for the necessary reeducation of our people to become real democrats. This leads Germans to take sides as to the occupying power, they like or dislike. What other consequences may result from this tendency of the Germans toward one or the other great power cannot be decided yet.

The Russians have made more progress in their propaganda than the other Allies. As an example, questions like the food situation and the question of supporting Germany with food imports—where the U. S. A. is undoubtedly leading—are still not clear in the mind of the German people.

Problem number two for the German newspaperman is the general attitude of the Western Allies. They miss the opposition against the Russian tendency toward total Bolshevization.

The lack of Allied politicians who might be successful with a well-balanced policy against the strong

Russian pressure leads to the conclusion that the Americans will lose the victory they gained in Europe.

Propaganda chances which were very obvious unfortunately haven't been used. Germans are not enough engaged for these tasks. The feeling of suspicion against Germans is still very strong on the American side. It often happens that the Americans even exceed their own strongest deNazification laws in considering persons supposed to take over official positions or jobs with military government. In this way the Americans miss those Germans who would have the background for a new policy on re-education.

Undoubtedly England is the favorite in the feeling of the Germans toward the four occupying powers. The reason is the most correct and straight occupation policy of the British. Here the Germans meet—and it is most important—a sort of human interest in their present problems. This is quite a contrast to the generally cold attitude of the Americans.

We Germans have to look eastward and westward. We have to take a hard way—we are certain of that. But we also know that our efforts will be in vain if a united policy for Germany isn't followed soon.

How can we become democrats of the occupying powers do not live up to a real and clean democracy?

The tire industry in 1945 produced slightly more than one civilian tire for each car on the road; military demand took the remainder.

Boyle's COLUMN

BY HAL BOYLE

BERLIN — The number one problem faced by a German newspaperman these days is the entirely new political structure of Germany caused by the loss of the war and the occupation of the country.

He must think in foreign and local policy at the same time. The entirely different ideas of democracy which the four great powers represent give no basis for the necessary reeducation of our people to become real democrats. This leads Germans to take sides as to the occupying power they like or dislike.

What other consequences may result from this tendency of the Germans toward one or the other great power cannot be decided yet. The Russians have made more progress in their propaganda than the other Allies. As an example, questions like the food situation and the question of supporting Germany with food imports—where the U. S. A. is undoubtedly leading—are still not clear in the mind of the German people.

Problem number two for the German newspaperman is the general attitude of the Western Allies. They miss the opposition against the Russian tendency toward total Bolshevization. The lack of Allied politicians who might be successful with a well-balanced policy against the strong

Russian pressure leads to the conclusion that the Americans will lose the victory they gained in Europe.

Propaganda chances which were very obvious unfortunately haven't been used. Germans are not enough engaged for these tasks. The feeling of suspicion against Germans is still very strong on the American side. It often happens that the Americans even exceed their own strongest deNazification laws in considering persons supposed to take over official positions or jobs with military government. In this way the Americans miss those Germans who would have the background for a new policy on re-education.

Undoubtedly England is the favorite in the feeling of the Germans toward the four occupying powers. The reason is the most correct and straight occupation policy of the British. Here the Germans meet—and it is most important—a sort of human interest in their present problems. This is quite a contrast to the generally cold attitude of the Americans.

We Germans have to look eastwards and westwards. We have to take a hard way—we are certain of that. But we also know that our efforts will be in vain if a united policy for Germany isn't followed soon.

How can we become democrats of the occupying powers do not live up to a real and clean democracy?

Hal Boyle
